

A central square frame is formed by two overlapping squares. The top square is slightly offset to the right, and the bottom square is slightly offset to the left. The text is centered within the intersection of these squares. Surrounding the frame are several decorative symbols: a six-pointed starburst at the top center, a small circle at the top right, a small circle at the middle left, a small circle at the bottom left, a plus sign at the bottom left, a plus sign at the bottom right, and another six-pointed starburst at the middle right.
